Temecula Valley National Summer Series: June 30 - July 4 in Temecula

Nilforushan Equisport Events not only got their National series rescheduled, they got the new two-week series rated by the USEF. The first week took place June 24-28.

Level 4 Jumpers and National Hunters becoming pointed resulted in part because each week offered over $80,000 in prize money, greater than the usual $25,000 for unrated shows.

Presented by Interactive Mortgage, the Summer Series is staged at Galway Downs Equestrian Center. The Nilforushans are offering their own economic stimulus by giving trainers a 2% rebate on the cost of their barns' entries and stalls. "NEE hopes these funds will be helpful in allowing trainers to keep working with their clients and traveling the horse show circuit with a bit less stress," says their press statement.

West Palms & Gold Coast: July 2-5; July 8-12; July 16-19 in Lakeview Terrace

Hunter/jumper organizers West Palms Events were sorry to leave their normal 4th of July stomping grounds, the Huntington Central Park Equestrian Center, this year. But when Orange County approvals lagged, they were happy to find a new host in the Hansen Dam Horse Park in the Los Angeles area's Lakeview Terrace. The West Palms Welcome Backs #1 and #2 are USEF A rated, and the Gold Coast July is USEF B rated.

All three shows will be managed by West Palms in association with the Langer Equestrian Group. The first two weeks are highlighted by a $22,500 Grand Prix classes and the third week has a $10,000 Grand Prix.
