

Happy Thanksgiving!

I hope this doesn't jinx anything, but last year this time the whole state was reeling from devastating wildfires that many are nowhere near recovered from. So, in preparing for Thanksgiving's reminder about daily things to be grateful for, that probably tops my list. Here's hoping it stays that way and that we can all continue with horse-centric disaster preparedness practices even when the skies are free of smoke and in the absence of new stories that remind us how important that is.

We have another packed issue reporting on horses, horse people and horse events throughout the state. California girls Frankie Thieriot Stutes and Zazou Hoffman did their home state proud in October.

November 2018 - Editor's Notes

Written by CRM

Wednesday, 31 October 2018 22:36

kimfmiller1@mac.com

www.horsemasters.com